Acknowledgements

This is a first large-scale bibliography of the writings of Helen Dendy (from December 1895, Bosanquet). As this bibliography shows, she published a huge amount, most of it extremely interesting for those working on the history of social policy and social reform, little of it collected. Too much of it now lost in the mists of unread journals and book and so is wrongly neglected. Hopefully, this bibliography will enable scholars to recover more of her thought and significance.

This version of the bibliography is made available free-of-charge to everyone, under the terms of the Creative Commons. Access is allowed to anyone who does not make any commercial profit from it, who does not alter it, and who acknowledges its source as a product of Colin Tyler under the auspices of the Centre for Idealism and the New Liberalism at the University of Hull, UK. All rights are retained by Colin Tyler, in order to protect it as a contribution to the common good of the scholarly community.

As with so many bibliographies in this Centre for Idealism and the New Liberalism working paper series, I owe a significant debt to Peter Nicholson for identifying publications that I missed. I only am responsible for the remaining errors. Indeed, this is first version of this bibliography and, as such, it contains gaps. The known gaps are indicated by triple question marks (“???”). As always, I would be very grateful if readers could help to fill the identified gaps and to let me know of any undetected errors. Future versions will acknowledge these contributions in the relevant Acknowledgement pages.
